

The book was found

The Dordogne, Lot & Bordeaux, 6th (Country & Regional Guides - Cadogan)

Synopsis

This lush, rural corner of France where four great rivers meet offers good food, good wine and good living. Cadogan's foray into the home of gastronomic indulgence now sails into its fifth edition. Authors Dana Facaros and Michael Pauls lived in the Lot for ten years, and the guide bursts with their intimate knowledge of the region. They explore the world's most celebrated vineyards along the Dordogne and Lot rivers, through Bergerac, Saint Emilion and the medieval city of Cahors, with detailed wine critiques along the way. From Bordeaux to Toulouse, the region's two fascinating cosmopolitan cities, they reveal the density of historic and natural treasures the region has to offer; from the earliest known prehistoric art at the Lascaux caves to the beautiful Renaissance town of Sarlat. Now fully redesigned, this new edition contains the most up-to-the-minute practical information and listings, along with a stunning section of color photographs and useful maps.

Book Information

Series: Country & Regional Guides - Cadogan

Paperback: 472 pages

Publisher: Cadogan Guides; 6th edition (June 1, 2007)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 1860113540

ISBN-13: 978-1860113543

Product Dimensions: 5.6 x 0.8 x 8.3 inches

Shipping Weight: 1 pounds (View shipping rates and policies)

Average Customer Review: 2.4 out of 5 stars 6 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #1,163,753 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #17 in Books > Travel > Europe > France > Dordogne #22 in Books > Travel > Europe > France > Bordeaux #1552 in Books > Travel > Europe > France > General

Customer Reviews

Passionate and packed with good info
National Geographic Traveler (US)
Bursting with practical information and in-depth knowledge, Cadogan Guides also make a cracking good read.
- The Times (UK)
Cadogan are the pick of the bunch
- Daily Telegraph (UK)

Beguilingly slow-paced, this area is backwater France at its most bucolic and diverse. Here, the rivers Dordogne, Lot, Garonne and Tarn wind through a land of gentle hills, myriad chateaux, medieval fortified bastide towns, astonishingly unchanged Romanesque churches, and Paleolithic caves adorned with paintings from our early ancestors. While, amid the world's largest concentration of vineyards, the bustling cities of Bordeaux and pink-brick Toulouse up the pace distinctly, elsewhere you get the feeling that little has changed since the Hundred Years' War. Dana Facaros and Michael Pauls have produced this witty, astute insider's guide to their very own patch of France – its places, architecture, natural wonders, legends, quirks, cuisine and wine - and show you why it is a region to return to again and again.

Printing too small. More academic than I anticipated - or wanted; was looking forward to more info on the people, culture of today as I will be traveling there in Oct. I didn't need every bit of history from BC, AD.

Needs update.

I came to this page in search of a new edition of this book. I don't have the old one, or obviously this one, so I will not write a review. But seeing that these two reviews on this site are so negative I just wanted to say that in general I find the Cadogan guides to be better than most others, including LP. The same authors write a series of guides on this part of the world--they actually live in SW France. Their South of France book (presumably incorporates their separate books on Provence, Cote d'Azur, Languedoc-Roussillon) is unreservedly excellent. I have to concur with the reviewer of that guide who wrote this: "When I travel to other places I'll look at the guides by Facaros and Pauls first." I have no connection with the authors or publisher but like them I have a special affection for SW France. Perhaps it is more a cultural difference for these two reviewers who didn't like the "Brit chatty tone". As an Australian who has lived in England and France (and briefly worked in USA) I cannot say I especially detected that in the SoF book and it made me curious: checking their website it is not clear but on Paul's website the current article begins "we Americans".. But on their shared website it says "Pauls' primary interest has always been cities and urban design, which sets their guidebooks apart.." This could be another reason why I find their guides a bit different because it happens that this is also a lifelong interest of mine. So there it is, perhaps simply chacun ses goûts.

This book does have a fair amount of useful information. But this positive comes with a big negative:

the guide is written in pithy, cheeky Brit-speak with a decidedly Anglo-Saxon, expatriate type of perspective on French culture and history. The text abounds in childish witticisms and connotations and is filled with adjective loaded condensations of and comments on history and facts. The author is, evidently, addicted to cartoonish metaphors and silly descriptions that convey French history as a grade school costume pageant. The text is in a very small type face, and is rather grayish rather than black, making for some hard reading in anything other than strong light. There is a brief color photo section at the front, but the book is otherwise all text and maps. There's useful info; but it's a hard slog. Insight Guide's "Southwest France", while less detailed in some ways as to recommendations, and far less opinionated, is vastly better in all meaningful respects. Eyewitness Guide's "Dordogne and Southwest France" is also filled with useful info and history, as well as wonderful photos and extensive illustrations. Either of these alternatives are superior. But if you buy both of them they will, together, completely out class the Cadogan "The Dordogne, Lot & Bordeaux, 6th"

I spent 6 weeks driving around in this region and this was the most useful guide I had. I loved the information and even that British attitude. Probably not the best book re where to stay and eat, but for everything else in wonderful.

While motoring from Bordeaux up through the Medoc to Pointe de Grave it became increasingly clear that the authors of this book either spent no time or very little in the area they are writing about. The book gives very little relevant information on the surroundings but tends to waffle on in childlike fashion about essentially nothing. The information on the Dordogne valley is as dissapointing.

Download to continue reading...

The Dordogne, Lot & Bordeaux, 6th (Country & Regional Guides - Cadogan) Dordogne and the Lot, 5th (Country & Regional Guides - Cadogan) Dordogne & the Lot, 4th (Country & Regional Guides - Cadogan) Dordogne & the Lot: Full-color travel guide to the Dordogne & Lot (Footprint - Destination Guides) Southwest France: Dordogne Lot & Bordeaux (Cadogan Guides) The Rough Guide to Dordogne and the Lot (Rough Guide to Dordogne & the Lot) Guide Vert Perigord - Dordogne - Lot [ Green Guide in FRENCH -Perigord - Dordogne - Lot ] (French Edition) Cadogan Cairo, Luxor & Aswan (Cadogan Guides) (Cadogan Guide Cairo Luxor Aswan) The Rough Guide to the Dordogne & the Lot (Including Bordeaux and its Vineyards) [Rough Guide Travel Guides] Blue Guide Southwest France, with Bordeaux, the Dordogne, PÃ©rigord, the Lot, Aveyron, the Tarn, the Gers, the Landes and Armagnac, Biarritz and the Pays Basque, Lourdes, the Pyrenees and

Toulouse Bay of Naples & Southern Italy, 6th (Country & Regional Guides - Cadogan) Cadogan Guides Vienna, Prague and Budapest (Cadogan Guide Vienna Prague Budapest) Britain: Cornwall, Devon & Somerset (Cadogan Guides) (Cadogan Britain: Cornwall, Devon, & Somerset) Brittany (Cadogan Guides) (Cadogan Guide Brittany) Cadogan Guides Loire (Cadogan Guide Loire) Barcelona & Catalonia (Cadogan Guides) (Cadogan Guide Barcelona & Catalonia) Cadogan Guides Bilbao & the Basque Lands (Cadogan Guide Bilbao & the Basque Lands) Cadogan Guides Crete (Cadogan Guide Crete) Michelin Green Guide Bordeaux (France) : Vignoble de Bordeaux-Bassin d'Arcachon-Parc Naturel Regional des Landes de Gascogne (French Edition) Bay of Naples & Southern Italy, 7th (Country & Regional Guides - Cadogan)

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help