Customer Reviews

Alexandra Mary Fix is a Heinemann-Raintree author.

This is a kid-friendly non-fiction book with simple projects students in grades 4-6 can do independently. The note to teachers in the back gives excellent advice on how to adapt the projects to use various types of materials. I think this book would work well in a non-fiction reading center with supplies on hand for students to make a project independently. These projects can also be used with the whole class, rather inexpensively (aren't all teachers looking for inexpensive???) Ancient civilization is new curriculum for me, and I found these projects grabbing my attention. Even though there are only 4 projects in this small book, they include food, paper-making, paper mache, measurement, and drawing. I would love to have several copies of this book, so I could let students take it home to create a project as HomeFun!
