Brighter Child workbooks help children build a strong foundation for learning. Fun activities and colorful practice pages reinforce essential skills and concepts. With Brighter Child Handwriting: Cursive, you can help your child master basic writing skills for school success. Inside this book, find activities that teach: writing uppercase and lowercase letters; combining letters to make words; combining words to make sentences.

Love this book! I bought it for my son because I know that cursive writing it's no longer being taught in school and since I am now homeschooling my son I thought it would be a great addition to his curriculum. In the beginning it has just the letters on its own then comes the sentences along with silly pictures that describe the sentences.

Fortunately for us, my son's third grade teacher will be teaching cursive handwriting this year. This workbook is a great practice book. It begins with practice for each alphabet letter. The pages are regular letter sized so plenty of space to practice on. Each alphabet letter (upper and lower case) has arrows and numbered steps 1,2,3 so that the student can trace on his/her own. The large amount of space is my son's favorite aspect of the workbook. Next, there are 25 pages of tracing words, and then 25 pages of silly sentences (like " Juggling jaguars jam to jazz"). Although it is didactic in nature, it is also a fun way to learn. My son likes it; in fact, he asked me to write this review so that other kids will know about it. I also recommend this book.

I'm sorry to say that our public school where we live do not teach cursive. I have a 7th grade granddaughter who wanted to learn cursive, so I got her this book. She has been sitting for hours since it arrived and can't tear herself away. I got this one above other items because it gave the numbered directional signals where the other ones did not. This is the system that I was taught 60 years ago. Some things just never go out of style. One of the reasons I wanted her to be able to write cursive is because I want her to be able to read it. I have purchased several different "ology" books , like dragonology, piratology, etc. These books are fun for her, but so many of the items presented are in cursive and she struggles so to read them and eventually has to ask grandma for help. I want her to be able to enjoy these on her own. I really think it's a shame that so many school systems are not teaching cursive anymore because of the new tech age. Many things will be inaccessible to this new generation on account of it.

Excellent book to teach cursive. I would definitely recommend to any parent or caregiver. There are pages for letter, words, and sentences with lines. It would help with improving handwriting overall.

As my son transferred schools last year, it became obvious to me that he had missed the year before of cursive handwriting being taught. His old school did not teach this in second grade although his new school did so when he entered in third grade there was a huge problem. I purchase this book in order to give him a little bit of additional practice and I absolutely love the fact that it shows them how to put the words together rather than just form individual letters. Now he is able to write words and with a little bit more practice, will become a lot more proficient in cursive writing. Thank you!

This is the best cursive book that I have found. It has the arrows showing the correct way to write the letters which is very helpful, and the only one I found that has this feature. It has a whole page for each letter and plenty of practice space. It is bright and colorful and my boys really like it. They are 13 and 8.

My son is very interested in this book. It has helped him learn how to write each letter...My only complaint, is all the extra loops in between the letters...I think it makes it difficult for the kids to learn with an extra loop in between the "B" So I just go over the examples and get rid of the "loop" to make it easier for him to learn how to write it.

These are very nice, not too big or not too small. The only one thing that I did for my kids is made copies because it takes them apparently 10 pages to learn how to write each letter in cursive but it is very well explained with arrows for each letter how to write it correctly.
