

The book was found

The Far Side Of The World

Synopsis

Tie-in edition of the major film from Fox due next Spring. Starring Russell Crowe as Jack Aubrey and Paul Bettany (A Beautiful Mind) as Stephen Maturin. Directed by Peter Weir. It is still the War of 1812. Patrick O'Brian takes his hero Jack Aubrey and his tetchy, sardonic friend Stephen Maturin on a voyage as fascinating as anything he has ever written. They set course across the South Atlantic to intercept a powerful American frigate outward bound to play havoc with the British whaling trade. If they do not come up with her before she rounds the Horn, they must follow her into the Great South Sea and as far across the Pacific as she may lead them. It is a commission after Jack's own heart. Maturin has fish of his own to fry in the world of secret intelligence. Aubrey has to cope with a succession of disasters -- men overboard, castaways, encounters with savages, storms, typhoons, groundings, shipwrecks, to say nothing of murder and criminal insanity. That the enemy is in fact faithfully dealt with, no one who has the honour of Captain Aubrey's acquaintance can take leave to doubt.

Book Information

Audio CD

Publisher: HarperCollins Publishers Ltd (October 6, 2003)

Language: English

ISBN-10: 0007161476

ISBN-13: 978-0007161478

Product Dimensions: 5.6 x 0.9 x 6.2 inches

Shipping Weight: 6.4 ounces

Average Customer Review: 4.4 out of 5 stars 144 customer reviews

Best Sellers Rank: #502,465 in Books (See Top 100 in Books) #1 in Books > Books on CD > Authors, A-Z > \(O \) > O'Brian, Patrick #1160 in Books > Books on CD > Literature & Fiction > General #7148 in Books > Literature & Fiction > Action & Adventure > Mystery, Thriller & Suspense > Thriller & Suspense

Customer Reviews

Captain Jack Aubrey sets sail for Cape Horn, determined to intercept an American frigate before it can wreak havoc on the British whaling trade. As always, he is accompanied by intelligence operative Stephen Maturin, and as always, Aubrey has no idea of what his companion is up to. Another impeccably written adventure, by the end of which you should be able to identify a mizzen topsail in your sleep. --This text refers to the Paperback edition.

'!full of the energy that comes from a writer having struck a vein! Patrick O'Brian is unquestionably the Homer of the Napoleonic wars.' James Hamilton- Paterson 'You are in for the treat of your lives. Thank God for Patrick O'Brian: his genius illuminates the literature of the English language, and lightens the lives of those who read him.' Kevin Myers, Irish Times 'Some of the liveliest and best naval stories ever written.' Guardian 'All true lovers of the sea will find this a most enjoyable book.' Nautical Magazine 'Aubrey has rarely undertaken a more hazardous mission or one more packed with exciting incident.' Gloucester Citizen

This is the Master and Commander book with the same title has the movie but it is a very different story. I've now sailed with Jack and Stephen for 10 books and have gotten to know them pretty well. Life at sea has been a hard life. We've had storms and a broken bowsprit, but nothing really amazing in this journey to the far side of the world. M&C books have a variety of sailing conditions, trips to islands, battles at sea and amazing discovery of rare species. The movie version of this had 3 sea battles. The book has a lesser battle on an island. Even a lucky captain like Jack Aubrey could not survive 3 major sea battles in every book. He already has scars and lost much of an ear.

Patrick O'Brian's characters get bigger and bigger. They are very funny. The stories are written so cleverly that you feel empathy with each person, despite opposing points of view. The detail is fascinating. I do not have much knowledge of the British Navy, but I know much more now. As much as the author loves the life, he is able to portray its tremendous abuses with clarity. I look forward to each novel and the resolution to some of the ongoing problems each of the major players. Spies, love affairs...or not, battles, the money chase, corruption, miraculous medical recoveries, addiction. This series is a fantastic read.

I started reading Patrick O'Brian's Aubrey - Maturin books in the mid 80's at the suggestion of one of my brothers. At that time there were only ten books in the series and, as I was traveling a lot in my job, I quickly went through those ten. When I expressed disappointment to my brother at having reached the end of the series he told me to start over from the beginning and that it would be as if I had never read the books. I was skeptical as I have found only a few books truly enjoyable the second time but I decided to give the O'Brian series a second read. I do not know what magic O'Brian used in writing but what my brother had said was true. It was if I had only a passing knowledge of the books when I started reading the series again. Although I do read other novels and other authors I quickly yearn O'Brian and for what The Times Book Review has hailed as the "best historical novels ever written". I have read the entire series multiple times and every time found each of the books fresh and exciting. So here is the note of caution that I tell my friends: read O'Brian at your own risk, as he can spoil you for other authors.

Somewhere I happened on a few reviews on Master and Commander (1st in the series). They were so full of praise for the book I just had to get it. I eagerly searched for the book as it was not easily available back then & was excited to find it. I was initially quite disappointed & I put it down after a few attempts. At some point I came back to it. I found that you didn't really need to understand all the jargon about sailing & some of the archaic words from that time period were pretty easy to figure out (disapprobation for disapproval). I quickly read through all the ones in print at the time, wishing the next one would be printed soon & bought Sea of Words & Harbors and High Seas, which other authors had written to better understand the books. I didn't buy Lobscouce and Spotted Dick (a cookbook a mother daughter team had written to describe the food of the time). I did see some of these authors at an all day series of lectures the Smithsonian had with over a thousand people in a hotel. Initially it was to be held in the Baird auditorium but they had no lecture rooms large enough to accommodate the crowd. Ken Ringle spoke about the writing, the US Surgeon General spoke about the medicine of this time period, etc. We were served the food of the time prepared by the authors of the cookbook. It is the best series of books on friendship ever written.

I've written review after review of O'Brian's Aubry/Maturin novels. It doesn't change as these are very far reaching in every facet of satisfaction one can get from a novel. These are historical fiction about some of the very most engaging characters of the era in the midst of the Napoleonic Wars. They give a sense of that age and what we have gained and lost from a world not that very long ago.

It is well written and in the O'Brian style of telling such a good tale this book excels. It is just unfortunate that as with the last book there is little happening and what does happen is for no apparent reason. The book didn't seem to advance the Aubrey/Maturin story in the least. It is as Aubrey said in the last book, "a parenthesis". Essentially every vignette was unsatisfying in its conclusion. The sheer story telling was in and of itself quite good within each of the vignettes but with them leading to nothing satisfying the reader is left wanting. You could safely skip this book and miss nothing since every future reference will be explained in enough detail to eliminate any concern over context. I am indifferent about the book overall and will say read it if you wish.

Download to continue reading...

My Side of the Mountain Trilogy (My Side of the Mountain / On the Far Side of the Mountain / Frightful's Mountain) Side-by-Side Hockey Stars: Comparing Pro Hockey's Greatest Players (Side-by-Side Sports) The Aubrey-Maturin Chronicles, Vol. 4: The Far Side of the World / The Reverse of the Medal / The Letter of Marque The Far Side of the World [Unabridged] (Aubrey/Maturin, 10) The Far Side of the World Far Side of the World (Aubrey Maturin, No. 9) The Far Side of the World (Aubrey-Maturin series, Book 10) The Far Side of the World (Aubrey-Maturin series, Book 10)(Library Edition) FAR/AIM 2018: Federal Aviation Regulations / Aeronautical Information Manual (FAR/AIM series) FAR/AIM 2017: Federal Aviation Regulations / Aeronautical Information Manual (FAR/AIM series) Star Wars Made Easy: A Beginner's Guide to a Galaxy Far, Far Away Star Wars Origami: 36 Amazing Paper-folding Projects from a Galaxy Far, Far Away.... The Pout-Pout Fish, Far, Far from Home (A Pout-Pout Fish Adventure) Far Far Away Star Wars Super Graphic: A Visual Guide to a Galaxy Far, Far Away Star Wars: 1,000 Collectibles: Memorabilia and Stories from a Galaxy Far, Far Away Rick Stein's Far Eastern Odyssey: 150 New Recipes Evoking the Flavours of the Far East FAR-AMT 2018: Federal Aviation Regulations for Aviation Maintenance Technicians (FAR/AIM series) FAR-FC 2018: Federal Aviation Regulations for Flight Crew (FAR/AIM series) Russia and the Western Far Right: Tango Noir (Routledge Studies in Fascism and the Far Right)

Contact Us

DMCA

Privacy

FAQ & Help