Already used one of these pads and ordering another. I use this pad to organize my weekly dinners. Saturday morning I sit with my husband and plot the meals for the week. It's efficient and eliminates panic of what to make for supper!

This is a handy way to track what you are having for dinner as well as what to make for breakfast, lunch, and snacks. I used this pad for several weeks, tracked all my eating, and actually lost some weight. I highly encourage anyone with a busy lifestyle and kids going a million directions in a week to buy this product. You just need to sit down for 10 mins and plan a few dinners (including what to do with the leftovers already in your fridge), plan your breakfast foods, lunches, snacks, and then you are set for the week.

This is really helpful for me to keep our grocery budget and meal plan for the week. I do however wish there was a spot for a grocery list. I like to make a list of what's needed while I meal plan. Other than that, this is a really helpful tool! Also, I love that there's a magnet on this notepad to hang it on the fridge.

This is great for meal planning when you have a busy schedule. Balancing work, workouts, social outings and dinners is sometimes a hassle and this helps to eliminate some of the stress and thought in regards to dinners. I've bought this product before and will continue buying it because it is indeed very helpful when you are trying to eat right and keep a busy schedule.

This notepad is excellent for poor planners! It has really helped to plan out healthier meals and save money at the grocery store by seeing what I need and how much to buy each trip. Our family uses this to plan our Weight Watcher Smart Point Meals and it has helped keep us organized and motivated to keep on track with our diets.

I love this pad. Use it every week for planning out meals. I keep a sticky pad on the fridge next to this pad for making my grocery list. Since I started using this meal plan pad, I have saved so much money! I only buy what I need at the grocery store and I never have to answer that annoying question from the kids "what's for dinner?" Because it's there for all to see!

Yes, yes, 1000 times yes to this pad. I waste less money on eating out and waste less money on buying too many things at the grocery store. Everyone can benefit from this. I'm not a day planner keeper, not a journaler and generally don't have much of a system of organization in my life. But this is actually a thing I use each day and every week. Plus, every time I sit down to meal plan I feel like an real adult.

I love these little knock knock pads. I was hesitant on buying this because it's a waste of paper, but after going through endless notebooks it really isn't in the hindsight of things. This notepad is perfect and flows perfectly with the rest of my kitchen. The magnet has held up so far on the fridge with no signs of giving out before I use the rest of the sheets.
