"Very few children can resist Harry. Subtle Humor and ridiculous but somehow plausible situations capture even the most reluctant reader."-- School Library Journal"

Harry, a friendly little dog on a visit to the seashore, is mistaken for a sea serpent when a big wave covers him with seaweed. "Very few children can resist [the stories about] Harry. The ridiculous but somehow plausible situations capture even the most reluctant reader."--SLJ. Children's Books of 1965 (Library of Congress)

We really liked the book "Harry the Dirty Dog" in our house, so we bought this and "Harry and the Lady Next Door" for my son's birthday. The part that irks me as a parent is when Harry is "walking in the shadow the fat lady made." I don't like reading statements so judgemental to my 2 and 4 year olds. Too bad, because the rest of the book is actually ok.

I grew up with Harry and was very excited to find these books for our youngest. Over the years we've lost my original books and had a surprise baby! Harry is interesting and fun and she loves him at 3.5 years old! Also check out "No Roses for Harry" and "Harry the Dirty Dog."

All of the Harry books are great reading, but this is my personal favorite. Harry gets lost at the beach when he wanders too far away and can't find his family back because the entire beach is dotted with protective umbrellas like the one his family has! This chronicles his fun, and scary time finding his family back. Cleverly illustrated solely in green and yellow/orange the Harry books are standouts in kids reading. My kids love all of Harry's adventures, this is the funnest, because of the setting. Thank goodness someone had the sense to republish these books and market them for today's audience! No scouring old bookstores for dogeared copies, they are sold right on in crystal-clear copy!

My granddaughter loves this book.

We love Harry! Nice read for summer
